

Was history class ever boring for you? I sure didn't like reading textbooks and memorizing dates. What if you could explore the real locations that historical events took place in while hearing from someone who was there?

Well, now you can! Explore Atlas! A crowd-sourced oral history map with real stories from real people, share you and your family's stories and hear about historical events from first-hand sources.

Pin your story, share your history!

